GERMAN 'PLANES PASS ALLIED LINE AND SHELL TOWN

Whole Fleet Drops Bombs on British Provision Depots on Coast at Dunkirk

CLAIM REPULSE OF ALLIED ATTACKS

Berlin Declares Germans Retook Trench with the Bayonet After French Had Occupied It

FRENCH REPORTS CLAIM ADVANCES

Slight Gains Along Coast Near Nieuport Are Claimed by Paris Statement

BERLIN, via Wireless to London, Jan. 29. For the second time within a week, the whole fleet of German aeroplanes has succeeded in passing the allies' lines near Nieuport and has shelled the coast town of Dunkirk, where the British headquarters of Gen. French are supposed to be located.

The war office made this official announcement this afternoon. Guided by two aviators who participated in last Friday's raid, the German aerial squadron passed over the trenches of the allies near Nieuport without detection, and "abundantly shelled" British provision depots at Dunkirk. The extent of the damage was not reported.

Repulse Allied Attacks

Repulse of French attacks in the sand dunes northwest of Nieuport and also of English attempts to regain lost ground west of La Bassee was claimed. In one place near Nieuport the French fought their way into a German trench but were driven out by a fierce bayonet charge. On the remainder of the western battle front there were no important changes.

The Russians have sustained heavy losses in frontal attacks in northern Poland. West of Warsaw, in the region of Bolimow and Lowicz, the Germans drove the Russians out of advanced positions and then held the captured trenches against a severe counter-attack.

Paris Claims Gains

PARIS, Jan. 29.—Slight gains for the allied forces along the sea coast near Nieuport, where infantry fighting has been in progress for the past twenty-four hours, was reported in dispatches from the battle front today.

The French took a German position between St. Georges and Lombaertzyde. Elsewhere around Nieuport and in the region south toward Ypres there were infantry clashes, but the Germans evidently are awaiting the arrival of reinforcements.

Artillery duelling and infantry clashes also occurred near Ypres, Arras and Lens as well as at Craonne. French artillery has silenced German guns directed at French northwest of Pont-a-Mousson, in the Le Pretre forest.

Battle at Craonne

Chagrined at the failure to take French trenches on the plateau of Craonne, the Germans are hurling fresh regiments to the attack, according to advices received here today. The region about the shell-wrecked village of Hurtbiz is the scene of some of the most sanguinary infantry fighting of the war.

Saxon regiments, renewing the assault on the elevated French positions, are being mowed down by French light artillery, supporting the foremost line of French trenches. Despite heavy losses, the Saxons are returning to the attack hourly, according to latest advices from the battle front, which now estimate the number of German dead and wounded on the fifth day of the battle at nearly 10,000.

The French losses have been comparatively small.

Business Is Good

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—Progress and prosperity are in the air and America must grasp its opportunity, asserted Vice President Kingsbury of the American Telephone & Telegraph company today in an address before the American Electric Railway association, which also had scheduled as its guest late this afternoon President Wilson.

"There is not much of anything the matter with the United States," said Kingsbury. "The president has advised business men to be confident of the future, and so we should be."

Of America's social life, Kingsbury said: "It is in a state of unrest and change. This demand for change may be the very best thing that could happen. The people want an opportunity for a more intimate share of the affairs of the government, for enjoyment of better social, educational and economic conditions for an equal chance in business. I say this is the time for altruism."

FATHER PADLOCKS LOG CHAIN ABOUT NECK OF DISOBEDIENT SON

PHILLIPS, Wis., Jan. 29.—Albert Hartmann, 12-years old, wore a seven foot log chain padlocked around his neck for three days as a penalty for disobeying his father. On the end of the chain was a piece of railroad iron weighing twenty-one pounds. Thus manacled, the boy was forced to walk a considerable distance to school each day, with the thermometer 26 degrees below zero.

These facts became known today when County Judge Owen released the father on suspended sentence. The court's clemency was due to the fact that the father, Albert Hartmann, Sr., is blind.

Hartmann told Judge Owen that he locked the chain about his son's neck Sunday night after the boy had gone to a neighbor's house contrary to his wishes. The girl teacher at the county school told Judge Owen that she was afraid to report the matter. The pupils, however, told their parents and the sheriff went to the Hartmann home Wednesday. The boy was almost paralyzed from the weight of the chain.

BOTH SIDES CLAIM TO CONTROL MEXICO

Conflicting Reports Say Each Faction of Mexican Rivals Is in Charge of the Capital

SILLIMAN REPORTS CAPITAL TAKEN

Telegraphs Details of Vigorous Fighting as if There Were No Question the City Has Fallen

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—Contradictory dispatches from the headquarters of the rival factions in Mexico left the administration in a quandary today concerning just who is in control of Mexico City. Villista reports received from the capital via El Paso this morning declared that General Obregon's army of Carranzistas was some distance from the city, and in no danger of attacking immediately. Zapata was said to be in charge of the capital.

Reports from the Carranzistas in Mexico, later in the day, announced that Obregon was in control of the capital, and these reports were apparently borne out by dispatches from United States Consular Agent Silliman, that there had been brisk fighting between the Zapatistas and 10,000 constitutionalists under Obregon, before the latter took the city.

Vigorous fighting, in which large numbers were killed and wounded, attended Gen. Obregon's capture of Mexico City, it was stated by Silliman, who telegraphed as if there was no question that the capital had fallen, other statements to the contrary notwithstanding.

Obregon, according to this account, marched into the city at two o'clock Thursday afternoon at the head of 10,000 Carrazanists. It was added that a manifest proclaiming the form of government for the capital during the Carranza occupation will be issued today.

Carranza will not move his capital and headquarters from Vera Cruz to Mexico City in the opinion of constitutionalist officials today. They said the severest fighting would center about the capital, Saltillo and Chihuauha and that the present strategic plan is to "push" Villa into the United States.

Positive announcement that there will be no change in administration policy towards the Mexican situation as a result of latest developments in Mexico City was made by Secretary Bryan at the close of today's session.

Say Garza Resigned

GALVESTON, Texas, Jan. 29.—Mexico City is tranquil under Carranzista rule, reported Gen. Obregon in an official message to Vera Cruz, transmitted to the constitutionalist consul here this afternoon.

Roque Garza renounced his title to provisional president before quitting the capital, stating the conventionalists were "hopelessly beaten," according to Obregon's message.

Villista Version

EL PASO, Texas, Jan. 29.—Mexico City was today declared to be in no immediate danger of attack by the Carranzista army commanded by General Obregon. Communication with the capital was restored and advices here stated that Minister Palafox of the Zapata faction, is in full charge of the situation in the city.

The advices from the Mexican capital declare that provisional President Garza, who was reported to have fled to Cuernavaca, is still in the capital. He is believed to be a prisoner of the Zapatistas, because of his utterances before the convention, against General Zapata and Palafox.

General Villa is reported at Aguas Callentes, but plans to leave soon for Tampico.

EARTHQUAKE TOLL OFFICIALLY FIXED AT 9,238 DEAD

ROME, Jan. 29.—It was officially announced that the casualties in the city of Avezzano from the recent earthquake were 9,238 dead and 2,040 survivors, of whom the majority were injured.

WANTS WISCONSIN TO URGE EMBARGO

Milwaukee Socialist Assemblyman Introduces Resolution Asking Congress to Act

WOULD KEEP ARMS AND FOOD

Preamble of Resolution Declares It Is Necessary for U. S. to Starve Out the War

MADISON, Wis., Jan. 29.—A big fight in the assembly and senate is presaged in the introduction this morning of a resolution of Assemblyman Vint, socialist, Milwaukee, which urges congress to place an embargo on all arms, foodstuffs and money.

This will be rigorously opposed by the farmer members of the legislature, who declare now that they are getting big prices for their foodstuffs, city members wish to cut them off from their market.

Raises Prices Here

The resolution declares that prices are being raised here by shipments abroad. It goes on to say: "Whereas, to curb the war in Europe and to curb the monopolists in this country, also to keep this nation from being drawn into the conflict, two things must be done.

"We must starve the war by cutting off supplies;

"We must feed our own people by seizing the sources of supplies; and

"Whereas, In order to bring this about, we must stop the shipping of all supplies into the war zone, not a penny for loans, not an ounce of food should leave these shores to prolong this terrible shedding of blood; and

"Whereas, This is the only honest and complete neutrality. In no other way can we be sure of keeping this nation out of that fearful whirlpool; and,

"Whereas, Bread and meat and money are as necessary as men and guns and bullets for the killing of men in war. Keeping food and cash here will save lives on both sides of the Atlantic; and,

"Whereas, To carry on the war and to continue the wholesale slaughter, the governments of Europe have seized the stores of food and money, sources of credit, railroads and telegraphs, certainly this government is justified in taking similar measures to stop the war and to save lives at home; therefore, be it

To Be Sent to Congress

"Resolved, by the assembly, the senate concurring, that the legislature of the state of Wisconsin respectfully urge congress to prohibit the shipping to the war zone of any article that will help to keep the warring armies at their murderous work, and furthermore forbid the lending of money to any government that has plunged its interests into war; and, be it further

"Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the president of the senate of the United States, the speaker of the house of representatives, and to each of the senators and representatives from this state."

The senate laid the appointment of George J. Weigle of Milwaukee, former state senator, who, the governor has named state dairy and food commissioner in place of J. Q. Emery.

Both houses adjourned until Tuesday at 2 o'clock.

HURLS CHILD AT ALLEGED FATHER

MINNEAPOLIS, Jan. 29.—"Take your child. You are now married to another woman and I don't want your child," screamed Miss Mary Guivna, today, as she threw her baby at William Skatz in the court of Justice Molyneaux where she sought to establish that Skatz was the child's father. Skatz dodged the little body and the infant fell to the floor apparently unhurt. Miss Guivna made for Skatz in an apparent frenzy but Skatz retreated to the corridor.

SOUTH TO HAVE JOB

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—The south will be represented on the federal trade commission, it became known today, but President Wilson's selection was withheld. Choice of one of the two unfilled places lay between George Rubiee of New Hampshire and George Record of New Jersey.

NORMAL TO LOSE LARGE BUILDING ORDERED IN 1913

Board of Regents Diverts Money to Stevens Point School; Little Hope Here

BILL NOW IN LEGISLATURE

Hudson Assemblyman Fathers Measure to Defeat Addition to the La Crosse School

One of the first legislative steps to deprive the La Crosse normal school of its physical education building, provided for in an appropriation bill passed at the 1912-1913 session of the Wisconsin legislature, was taken today when Assemblyman Bradley of Hudson, Wis., introduced a bill before the legislature providing for a repeal of the building act of last session.

Assemblyman Bradley's action is the result of the decision of the state board of normal schol regents to divert the appropriation to Stevens Point.

When the bill was presented at the last session of the legislature the understanding was that the building was to be given to La Crosse. That was the information furnished the joint committee on finance and it was with this understanding that that commitee recommended the appropriation.

Little Hope Felt Here

Soon after the last session Stevens Point started a spirited campaign for the physical building, maintaining that such was unnecessary at the La Crosse school and could be used to better advantage at Stevens point.

Attorney William F. Wolfe, La Crosse, who succeeded the Hon. Thomas Morris as a member of the board of regents, put up a spirited fight to secure the building for La Crosse, a majority of the regents favoring the upstate city.

Little hope is held here for the defeat of Assemblyman Bradley's bill, it being a foregone conclusion that the board of regents will back the measure and that a second, making the appropriation for Stevens Point will follow the repeal of the statute favoring this city.

ATTENDS BANQUET AS HOUSE BURNS; FURNITURE SAVED

WAUKON, Iowa, Jan. 29.—(Special.)—The home of Oscar Beeler here was destroyed by fire at 10:00 o'clock last night.

In spite of a temperature of ten below zero neighbors turned out when the alarm was given, and while the fire department fought the flames, saved practically all of the furniture.

Mr. Beeler was attending a banquet when the fire started. The home was protected by insurance.

FISHERMEN MAY HAVE SAVED MANY

BERLIN, via Wireless to Sayville, Jan. 29.—Hope that many members of the crew of the ill-fated Bluecher, sunk in the North sea engagement, may have been rescued by fishing vessels, was expressed here today. A telegram received from Wilhelmshaven reported that one of the Bluecher's survivors had been picked up by a German vessel and landed there.

General Moderation Noted All Over Country; Winnipeg Now Gets Cold Record

PETROGRAD SAYS TWO ARMIES ARE NEAR KONIGSBERG

One Is Coming from North and Other from the West According to Slavs

HOPE TO SQUEEZE DEFENDERS

Aim Is to Catch Germans Between Two Forces and Cause Withdrawal

PETROGRAD, Jan. 29.—Two Russian armies are now menacing Konigsberg, capital of East Prussia, according to official dispatches received here today.

One force is descending from the north upon Tilsit, sixty miles northeast of the city. It already has reached and destroyed the German supply station at Pogegen, three miles north of Tilsit. A second great army, whose advance upon Konigsberg was officially reported two days ago, continues to press westward along a line extending in a southwesterly direction from Lasdenen to Mallwishken, a few miles northeast of Insterburg.

To Attack on Two Sides

The northern army is marching to an attack on the left flank of the German army along the Inster river between Lasdehnen and Mallwischken. If it continues to make progress the Germans will be squeezed between two Russian armies and forced to give ground in the direction of Konigsberg.

German attempts to check the advance of the grand duke's army upon Thorn, along the lower Vistula by attacks near Kikolu, have been repulsed, it was officially reported.

For the last twenty-four hours an artillery duel has been in progress along the left bank of the Vistula, the Russian gunners inflicting heavy losses in German trenches.

Hold Austrian Pass

Repulse of an Austrian attempt to retake the Vereczke Pass, one of the important gateways through the Carpathians, was claimed in an official statement issued by the war office today.

The Austrians, in heavy force, advanced northward along the railroad from Munkacks, in Hungary, to Stryj, Galicia. Their offensive was halted and broken by the fire of Russian artillery near Voloveo at the southern entrance to the pass.

The Vereczke Pass is twenty-eight miles southeast of the Uszok Pass, near which strong bodies of Austrians have been attempting to break through the Carpathians. The plan of the Austrians is to pierce the mountains at these two points and pour large armies into Galicia to raise the siege of Przemysl.

Slavs Try Counter-Move

To offset this movement, the Russian right, pressing in a southwesterly direction from the Dukla Pass, is threatening a flank attack on the Austrian left.

Vienna Claims Success

VIENNA, via Amsterdam, Jan. 29.—Austria's heavily reinforced armies, pursuing a successful offensive against the Russians in Galicia, are moving northward with the object of recapturing Lemberg and thus automatically raising the siege of Przemysl.

One army division has crossed the Carpathians at Vyzkof, less than 80 miles south of Lemberg. The Austrians forced a passage of the mountains at this point in an engagement in which the Russians sustained heavy losses. They are now advancing northward along the railroad line leading through Stryj to Lemberg.

INVALID LEAPS TO DEATH

CHICAGO, Jan. 29.—Suffering a nervous breakdown, Frank T. Crawford, 37, son-in-law of the late Luther Laflin Mills, and a Yale graduate, today jumped headlong from the third story of his palatial north side residence. Death resulted before physicians could arrive. Crawford was assistant purchasing agent of the National Biscuit company.

POSTPONE CANAL OPENING

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—Opening of the Panama canal will be postponed until July, according to official announcement by Secretary of the Navy Daniels, after today's cabinet session.

GIRL IS ABANDONED IN LA CROSSE HOTEL BY FORGER PARAMOUR

The Court House Clock Shivers, Then Stops Dead

Hickory, Dickory, Dock;
Jack Frost climbed into the clock.
He was shivering with cold
Until he made bold
To give La Crosse county a shock.

He thought the two hands were but sticks,
So vaulted right in 'tween the ticks.
But his breath froze the spring
That makes the clock ring
And now it is in a bad fix.

Whether Jack Frost had anything to do with the stopping of the court house clock at 8:10 this morning or it just went on a strike out of pure cussedness, county officials who were wont to go and come by its variable indications were loath to say.

However, the clock has stopped and employes at the county building are once more telling time by their Ingersolls.

CITY MAY REPEAL BREAD LOAF LAW

Bakers in Session Tonight to Discuss Procedure; Special Council Meeting Proposed

When the city council meets in special session tomorrow night the proposed repeal of the "16 ounce loaf of bread" ordinance will be discussed informally by the aldermen, and a special session of the council may be called to order such action.

La Crosse bakers are united in opposition to the enforcement of the ordinance today, and tonight they will hold a second meeting at the Stoddard hotel to advise with legal counsel and determine what action shall be taken to get around the measure.

Representatives of the Ruplin, Erickson, Schulze and Gustave Halvorsion bakeries attended the meeting last night, while a fifth bakery was represented over the telephone, but owing to the lateness of the notice some of the bakers were prevented from being present, thus necessitating a postponement of the session.

James Thompson, acting city attorney, declares that inasmuch as the city ordinance to which the bakers object fixes no price at which the 16 ounce must be sold, it will undoubtedly stand in the courts.

Chicago Raises Prices

CHICAGO, Jan. 29.—After a date to be fixed Saturday night five cent loaves of bread will sell for six cents and ten cent loaves for twelve cents in Chicago. President Charles Jaenicke of the Master Bakers' association, announced today that this action had been taken by the association. Soaring wheat prices was given as the cause.

CAMPBELL TO TALK ABOUT RIVER PLAN IN BIG COURT ROOM

La Crosse's mass meeting to boost for the rejuvenated Mississippi six foot channel and terminal dock for La Crosse will take the form of a stereopticon lecture, to be given free of admission in the circuit court room at the court house.

This decision was reached by the special committee which met at Mayor Sorensen's office last night. The speakers will be Captain Charles Campbell of Minneapolis and Captain Thomas Wilkinson.

Slides of the Mississippi river prepared by Captain Campbell in Europe and elsewhere will be shown. The meeting will be held on February 5, as previously decided, and the lectures will begin at 8 p. m. There will be no refreshments nor charge of any kind.

BANK DEFEATS HUGE SWINDLE BY CHECK RUSE

Selma Andrin Loses Prospective Husband Sought by Police and Diamond Ring

WHITE SLAVERY ALSO CHARGED

Eugenic Marriage Law Used as Cloak for Delay by the Prospective Groom Who Decamps

Selma Aldrin, 24, St. Paul, dimpled, demure and until lately unsophisticated, is today at home with her mother reflecting on the treachery of the man she was to have married in La Crosse yesterday. The man, Robb E. Jolson, is sought by the police.

Miss Aldrin was sent to her home by Chief of Police Webber last night after having been abandoned at a local hotel by Jolson. In the meanwhile Jolson got away with a $40 diamond ring belonging to Miss Aldrin, is said to have attempted to raise a check on a local bank from eight to $800 and was sought by St. Paul authorities who had further charges against him.

According to Chief Webber, Jolson and the girl came to La Crosse last Monday and registered at a local hotel as Mr. and Mrs. Robb E. Jolson. On Thursday the police were called in when the hotel authorities realized the girl had been abandoned.

Miss Aldrin told the chief she had come to La Crosse to marry Jolson. He had told her that the Wisconsin eugenic marriage law required him to take an examination and that three days must elapse before the ceremony could take place. On Wednesday he offered to take her diamond ring out and get it cleaned. That was the last seen of him.

Check is Well Protected

From checks with which he paid his hotel bill, it developed that Jolson narrowly failed in raising a check on a local bank to a large amount.

It was learned that when he arrived in La Crosse Monday he deposited ten dollars in cash and a draft on an eastern bank for $1,100 at a bank here. He then issued a check for eight dollars against this account, making it out so that it easily could be made to read $800, then had it certified by the bank. The check raising was prevented through the bank's precaution in using a check protecting machine which perforated the amount of the check through its body when it was certified. Although this perforating showed signs of having been tampered with, the machine figures could not be changed. The check was paid over to the hotel to apply on the couple's bill. It is now held by the police.

Descriptions of Jolson and the evidence against him available for use under a prosecution under the Mann white slave act have been presented to the federal authorities at St. Paul.

GERMAN KIDDIES GET BELATED GIFTS FROM THIS SIDE OF OCEAN

BY KARL H. VON WIEGAND
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

BERLIN, via The Hague, Jan. 29.—Despite the openly expressed feeling of irritation here over America's sale of arms to the allies, Germans and American exchanged "Hoch Deutschland" and "Long Live America" in the most cordial manner at a belated Christmas celebration here yesterday.

Five hundred poor children of Berlin gathered in the ice rink at the Admiral's ice palace for the distribution of Christmas gifts sent from America. Many of them were accompanied by their mothers, some of them in deep mourning for relatives lost in battle.

The celebration was managed by Jack Mayer, of New York. To each child Mayer gave not only a gift of some sort but a dollar, and for two hours there was a stream of happy-faced little street urchins pouring out the doors of the ice palace, clutching gifts and their shiny coins.

The TRIBUNE'S Daily Short Story

BY STRATEGY

BY PHILLIP CONDON

Copyright, 1915, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate

As the train drew near his destination Jack Fenton folded his newspaper and whirled around in his chair. When he left the terminal the car had been half filled, now every seat was occupied.

There was something familiar about the back of the head in the seat in front. Those dark, wayward locks confined with a gold pin, the rich blues and greens of the charming hat, the glimpse of pink-tinted ears—all belonged to Natalie Wells.

Jack opened his newspaper while the blood ran like liquid fire through his veins.

"Nat, of course," he muttered gloomily, for he had anticipated a pleaant fortnight with the Latimers, trusting to their tact not to mention his broken engagement to their fair cousin. With Natalie there at the Lilacs, his visit would not only be spoiled, but he would have to terminate it within a day or two. Had not he and Natalie decided that no roof was broad enough to shelter both of them at the same time?

"Wolfville!"

Jack fumbled with his hand baggage until he was the last one to leave the car. Beyond the station he saw the Latimer's long grey motor car waiting. The sun shone on iridescent plumage and a clay-colored motor cloak—Natalie's, of course.

Laggingly he went across the platform. Henri touched his cap at Jack's nod and opened the door.

Natalie turned soft brown eyes upon him. They widened with displeasure and became unbelievably hard and cold all in an instant. She bowed stiffly and even managed a conventional little smile.

"I wondered who we were waiting for,' she said, without offering her hand.

Jack grinned rather vaguely and was silent. It was fierce luck to be shut up in the tonneau with a girl who hated one. He couldn't apologize for his presence there, for he was an invited guest.

Henri may have felt the tension that existed between his passengers, for suddenly, without warning, the gray car shot forward and tore along the well-oiled roads at an ordinance-defying speed. There was no time to utter a word.

In ten minutes they entered the gates of The Lilacs, and Henri drew the panting machine to a standstill.

There was a babble of sound from the piazzas, and a party of girls and young men came down the steps to meet them.

Jolly Latimer threw himself at Natalie with a shriek of surprised delight.

"You darling! Where did you drop from?" she asked between kisses.

"We thought you were going to the Warden's this week," added Ned Latimer, with a worried look at Jack, who was the center of an animated group.

"I changed my mind—I hope I am not over-crowding you," explained Natalie, doubtfully.

"As if you were not always welcome!" cried Polly, hugging her cousin again. "We will tuck you away somewhere."

"We are having tea in the west piazza—come," said Ned leading the way.

It was a perfect October day with a blue sky overhead and a golden haze sifting over the distant mountains.

At one end of the piazza was Natalie, the center of a merry group; at the other end was Jack Fenton, discussing golf with some of the men.

Once Polly Latimer spoke to her husband.

"Did you ever see such luck, Ned?" she whispered. "I didn't ask Jack until after Natalie had refused!"

"It couldn't be helped," he reassured her. "Perhaps it will come out all right after all."

"It can't after what she told me," sighed Polly, forlornly, for she was fond of Jack.

"It can't after what Jack told me—but it might," was Ned's cryptic reply.

The Latimers did what they could to relieve Jack's embarrassment. At dinner he was far removed from Natalie Wells, and breakfast served in his room gave him freedom until the luncheon hour. To his relief Natalie did not appear.

It was 2 o'clock when Polly Latimer came upon Jack in the east veranda.

"Jack," she asked, anxiously, "have you seen Natalie this morning?"

"Why, no," he admitted.

"I am frightfully worried. She has disappeared. Lizette, my maid, says that she took Natalie's breakfast to her room and no one has seen her since—that is, no one except Martin, who says he saw her strolling through the forest gate long before noon. I have searched the house and grounds, and I don't know what to do!" She sat down and leaned her head wearily against the chair.

"What shall I do?" asked Jack promptly.

"Find her for me."

"I will—and Mrs. Latimer, don't worry; I am sure Miss Wells is merely detained somewhere. The forest is very tempting at this season, and she may have wandered farther than she thought."

"She may be lost—you know one can wander for hours in the North Woods and never find the way out."

"I will find her," encouraged Jack as he tossed aside his magazine and left the house.

He passed through the forest gate into the deep coolness of the tall trees. The crisp leaves crackled beneath his tread and there was the pungent smell of pine and sassafras—incense of the forest.

For hours he tramped the narrow trails, searching, calling the name of the girl he loved—he admitted it at last when he threw himself down in utter weariness and dropped his face in his hands. He loved her in spite of their bitter quarrel, and her life was dearer to him than his own.

It was after 5 o'clock and the aisles of the pines were growing dim. He would continue his search all night if need be, but he must first return to the house for lanterns.

He retraced his steps, still calling her, when he almost stumbled over a white heap on the ground.

The white heap proved to be Natalie in her sweater and wool skirt. Jack bent down and picked her up in his arms.

"What is the matter?" he asked sharply. Her face was pale and the dark lashes fluttered uncertainly against her cheeks.

"I am hurt," she whispered.

"Your ankle?"

She made no reply and he accepted it as an affirmative answer. He held her closely to his breast and felt a pang of remorse as he realized that Natalie was a frail little thing and that since their estrangement she had grown thin. Unconsciously his grasp tightened. A little sob escaped her lips.

"Did I hurt you, dear?" he whispered.

She shook her head and thick tears forced themselves through her lashes. Suddenly she struggled and slipped out of his arms, standing beside him in the path.

She looked at him with tragic brown eyes, wet with tears.

"What is the matter?"

"Jack," she quavered, "I have been perfectly dreadful. I know you will hate me worse than ever—"

"You know I could never hate you," was his protest.

"But—you don't know! Listen! I shall tell you everything, and then you can turn your back upon me and leave me alone."

She leaned against a tree trunk and forced her gaze to meet his.

"Yesterday I was standing on the station platform at Milford Junction waiting for the Mountain express—I was going to the Warden's place, at Pintop. The train drew in and I glimpsed your face at a window; it happened that my chair was next to yours, but you were reading and did not notice my entrance. I did not go on to Pinetop—I left the train at Wolfville and came on to my cousins, although I had refused their invitation and they did not expect me. I came, Jack, because I wanted to be near you!"

He held out his hands to her, but she shook her head and went on: "Wait until you hear the rest of my story. This morning I deliberately schemed to lose myself in these woods, hoping that you would find me and bring me home. I longed for the touch of your arms about me—the sound of your voice—for you!" She turned and hid her face against the pine trunk, sobbing softly.

Jack's face underwent a change. He gathered Natalie and the little pine tree into his generous embrace.

"My darling," he whispered, "you have outdone me in strategy! I was planning to break my leg or my neck, if necessary to incite your sweet sympathy! I can't get along without you, Nat! What shall I do?"

Natalie smiled through her tears.

"Why, you might begin by kissing me," she said demurely.

OLD-TIME COLD CURE—DRINK TEA!

Get a small package of Hamburg Breast Tea, or as the German folks call it, "Hamburger Brust Thee," at any pharmacy. Take a tablespoonful of the tea, put a cup of boiling water upon it, pour through a sieve and drink a teacup full at any time. It is the most effective way to break a cold and cure grip, as it opens the pores, relieving congestion. Also loosens the bowels, thus breaking a cold at once.

It is inexpensive and entirely vegetable, therefore harmless.

Daddy's Bedtime Story—The Boy With a Soiled Face.

"Come with me, my son," said the father.

"I WONDER why boys hate water so much!" mused daddy.

"I like to go swimming," spoke up Jack.

"Well, but you don't like to wash your face very well," teased daddy.

Jack hid his face in his hands and peeped at daddy through his fingers. "I'll do it now, daddy," he said.

"Wait till after the story, sonny. It's about a little boy with a soiled face.

"Since the war in Europe every little boy and girl has wanted to know something about the German emperor—Kaiser Wilhelm, as he is called.

"When he was a young boy he took a great fancy to the army, and, of course, being a prince, when he appeared upon the field all the soldiers and officers saluted him.

"He liked that very much and learned to salute too. But, being very anxious to get out upon the field, he used to run away from his nurse, and sometimes he would appear with his face very much soiled, his hands black and his hair not combed at all and his clothing all awry.

"Of course his nurse did not like this, because she knew if his father, the Crown Prince Frederick William, saw him in that condition he would be very angry with her.

"So she scolded and talked and scolded, but the little Wilhelm only stuck his tongue out at her in a very naughty way and then would run.

"Then she complained of him to his father, the Prince Frederick William, and he thought of a way to cure his little son of his untidiness.

"He watched his son for several days, and he noticed that the friendly military salutations that he received from the officers and soldiers pleased him more than anything else.

"So the wise prince smiled to himself and gave an order to all the soldiers and officers.

"The next time the little fellow appeared upon the parade ground, instead of friendly military salutes, all the soldiers acted as if they hadn't seen him.

"He walked along, saluting one after the other, but no one saw him or seemed to. Then he rushed to his father and stamped his feet with rage at the soldiers who would not salute and demanded that they be punished.

"'Come with me, my son,' said his father. 'Now look in that mirror.'

"The little Wilhelm looked, and then he did just what Jack did before I began this story—he covered his face with his hands.

"'No soldier in my army can ever salute a boy with a dirty face,' said the crown prince."

USING SOAP SPOILS THE HAIR

Soap should be used very sparingly, if at all, if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is just ordinary mulsified cocoanut oil (which is pure and greaseless), is cheaper and better than soap or anything else you can use.

One or two teaspoonfuls will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get mulsified cocoanut oil at any pharmacy, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.

Tired Nerves Welcome Maté

A London chemist of world-wide reputation says: "Maté must be considered a most valuable beverage. It is especially beneficial to the stomach and nerves. It has great sustaining powers but does not irritate. Its effect is soothing and quieting with no deleterious consequences of any kind."

Maté is so refreshing, invigorating and sustaining that it is an ideal beverage for tired mothers and women weary with the nerve-trying details of housework.

Maté is sold just as Nature made it—without any chemical additions or adulterations. It is pure and wholesome, and can be indulged in as frequently as desired without harm.

Woodley's Maté is easy to prepare; the day's supply can be made at the morning boiling and it is delicious when served iced between meals or reheated. If you feel nervous or irritable, or tire easily, keep a pot of Maté handy, drink it whenever you feel the need of something to refresh you.

THE BREAD PROBLEM

It is probable that were the local bakers to test the validity of the ordinance fixing the weight of a loaf of wheat bread at sixteen ounces, the court would uphold the ordinance, even in the face of a showing that sixteen ounces of wheat bread can not be sold at a profit for five cents. The reason is that the claim of confiscation can not be maintained, because the ordinance does not prohibit the bakers increasing the price of the loaf.

The problem of the bakers is an unpleasant one. They are not responsible for the bulge in wheat and flour. They are entitled to a fair profit. Yet people are accustomed to paying five cents the loaf for bread; it is handy, and customers would object to the difficulty of making change at five and a half or six cents fully as much as to the increase itself. Thus to raise the price would trouble the bakers, and to reduce the loaf would render them amenable to the law.

We can't expect our bakers to sell bread without profit, and the increase in prices in other cities suggests that they are honest in the claim that they can not make a living profit upon sixteen ounces at five cents. We suggest that the city council come to the relief by giving the bakers a committee hearing and, if the showing there made warrants it, by repealing the sixteen-ounce ordinance and making the legal weight fourteen or fifteen ounces until normal conditions are restored.

THE ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

The formation of a university alumni association in La Crosse can not be called premature; with approximately one hundred alumni and former students in this city, one wonders that organization was so long delayed.

The social features of the alumni association are pleasant to the anticipation, but the organization will have better justification than these. Theory is the pioneer of practice, and unless we keep in step with the march of the scholars we shall form the awkward squad in life's procession. Unless we leaven it with the day's newest and best thought, the day's work returns little for our effort. We get from life in proportion to our contribution to it, and unless we feed the intellect and the spirit we shall have little to give for the little we receive. The need of the individual tempts men and women to neglect culture for the hour's financial gain. It takes the vacation of son, daughter, nephew or niece to show one how one has been marking time.

So much for the individual. Consider the university—its need of its offspring. Education means democracy, and too much enlightened democracy is dangerous to those things that are the abuses of representative government. Dubbing honest economics and sociology "politics," those who would reap where others sow seek to curtail the larger usefulness of the institution. Criticism of the university is good for it, but its friends should be on guard to meet misrepresentations concerning it.

WHAT THE BARGES MAY BRING US

La Crosse is the largest city located on the Mississippi river in the state of Wisconsin.

It's true, even though one may never have thought of it before.

If the hope that river transportation is about to assume its just significance in the shipping world be justified, the leadership of this city as a river port in Wisconsin is of large importance. That importance depends upon our seizing the opportunity which it presents. The door to the opportunity is the proposed terminal docks.

Competent business men among our larger shippers have satisfied themselves that the representations as to saving in freight charges are approximately correct. What it means to secure these water rates may be better understood by consulting the list of discriminations against La Crosse in the railway tariffs against which shippers this week protested to the interstate commerce commission.

To the attractiveness of the proposition much is added by the discovery that the old impression of slowness of water transportation as compared with railroad transportation is error; that in fact, even up stream, the barge is far faster than the freight car.

From up and down the Mississippi river the steel barges may bring us a cargo we have long desired—they may bring us "Greater La Crosse."

If a little thing like our foreign policy shocks the colonel, he should be fitted with a shock absorber at once.

The Panama canal is not an irrigation ditch. Colonel Goethals has placed a ban on the use of liquor there.

It doesn't take particularly exemplary behavior to qualify as a good citizen at your own funeral.

Give some fellows half a chance and they will choose the wrong half.

Quips and Cranks and Wanton Wiles

Flower of Youth

Lest heaven be for the graybeards hoary,
God, who made boys for His delight,
Goes in earth's hour of grief and glory
And calls the boys in from the night;
When they come trooping from the war
Our skies have many a new gold star.

Heaven's thronged with gay and careless faces,
New waked from dreams of dreadful things,
They walk by green and pleasant places,
And by the crystal water springs,
Forget the nightmare field of slain
And the fierce thirst and the strong pain.

Forget! God smiles to see them merry,
For His own Son was once a boy;
They never shall be old and weary,
But of their youth will have great joy,
And in the playing fields of heaven
Shall run and leap, new washed, new shriven.

Now heaven's by golden boys invaded.
Scaped from the winter and the storm.
Stainless and simple as He made it,
God keeps the boy's heart out of harm.
The old wise saints look down and smile,
They are so young and without guile.

Oh, if the sonless mothers weeping,
The widowed girls, could look inside
The country that hath them in keeping
Who went to the great war and died,
They would rise and put their mourning off,
Praise God, and say: "He has enough."

—Katharine Tynan in London Spectator.

No Tender Chicken to Tender

Precise Boarding Mistress—Mr. Blunt, shall I tender you some more of the chicken?

Mr. Blunt—No, thank you! But if you can tender this piece you have already served me I shall be greatly obliged to you."

Like New Boy in School

His dog was a fierce Airesdale, which could whip and had whipped every other bowwow in the neighborhood. Then he clipped his coat.

"Yes," he said to a friend, "the clipping was my own idea. I believe it made him look better, but it was very awkward for the dog."

"How was that?" queried the friend.

"Oh, the other dogs don't know him. He had to fight them all over again."

KIDNEY TROUBLES PAINFUL AND ANNOYING

A short time ago I had what is termed Inflammation of the Bladder. At times I thought I would surely go wild. I tried the doctor but he did not seem to hit my case. I did not get any relief from the doctor's treatment. Was advised to try Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root by a druggist. I took his advice and began taking Swamp-Root, and after using it a short time began to get better and continued using it until my trouble was gone. Swamp-Root cured me.

I gladly advise any person that is troubled as I was, to try Swamp-Root for it is a good medicine. You can use this if you wish in any way that it will benefit others. My trade is that of a Painter. My age is 49.

Very truly yours,
J. H. JOHNSTON.
Watertown, N. Y.

Personally appeared before me, this 28th day of July, 1909, J. H. Johnston, who subscribed the above statement and made oath that the same is true in substance and in fact.

Marble Pudding

Steamed puddings will not be heavy if made with K C Baking Powder and cooked slowly to give the pudding time to rise before the dough is cooked through. Have a low blaze under the water for at least the first fifteen minutes.

Misspent Sympathy

Arthur sat on the front door step crying softly.

"What is the matter, litle boy?" asked a kind-hearted woman who was passing.

"M-ma's gone an' drowned all the kittens," he sobbed.

"What a pity! I'm awfully sorry."

"An' s-she p-promised—boohoo!—'at I c'u'd do it."—Lippincott's.

Had Some Proof

"I wish to see Miss Bluffham," said the young man with brown shoes and red hair.

"She is not in, sir," answered the maid, with a glibness that told of long practice in the ways of deceit.

"Are—are you sure?" faltered the youth, nervously twisting a mustache that only became apparent when attention was directed to it.

The maid's eyebrows elevated themselves.

"Do you doubt her word, sir," she asked reproachfully.

Even to the Stock Market

Hickville Postmaster (after his visit to New York)—Of course it wa'n't no use of me visitin' the stock exchange, for it's been closed up tight for some time, you know.

Village Blacksmith—Beats all how quick that there foot and mouth disease spread all over the country!—Puck

An Obliging Boy

Old Lady (irritably)—Here, boy, I've been waiting some time to be waited on.

Druggist Boy—Yes, ma'am. What can I do for you?

Old Lady—I want a stamp.

Druggist Boy—Yes, ma'am. Will you have it licked or unlicked?

Now it's "Whitebalied"

"Well, Rastus," said the colonel, "I understand your club has declined to admit Julius to membership."

"Dat's a fact, kunnel," replied the old darkey. "Ah dunno what de objection to Julius was, but when dey come to vote dey done whiteballed him."—Judge.

O. K. NEW RATES

CHAPTER XVI.

The Time of Her Life—by Arrangement.

"Well, you having a good time?" asked Sledge, sitting comfortably in the seat Mr. Watt had just vacated.

"The time of my life," she assured him, with happy animation.

"That's the word," he heartily approved. "If there's anybody here you want just tell Cameron. If he don't trot 'em right over, tell me."

"The mayor has been very kind," acknowledged Molly, beginning to wonder.

"He's got his orders," returned Sledge, complacently. "Let me see your dance program," and he took it from her lap. "I thought so," he commented. "There's a dark horse turned up, and you didn't get him."

"A dark horse?" she faltered.

"A ringer," he explained. "Lord Bunnchase. Andrew Lepton, the big coffee monopolist, sneaked him in here under an alias, and nobody's on." He puzzled over the card a moment. "Excuse me till I fix it," and he stalked away.

Molly sat silently, allowing a cold wave of humiliation slowly to chill her soul. Why, Sledge had carefully prearranged her triumph of the evening. He had assumed control of her dance card and of her succession of delightful tete-a-tetes. He had driven the star performers into her net, as if they had been droves of sheep. True, men had sought her a second time of their own accord, because of that charm which she knew she possessed; a vaguely understood attractiveness, which was more than beauty, more than cleverness, more than mere sex receptiveness. She had won by her own power, but Sledge had given her the glorious opportunities. His omnipotence began to annoy her, and his ruthlessness to inflame her already inflamed resentment.

She knew precisely what was happening at this moment. He was creating havoc in not less than half a dozen dance cards, with no compunction about having discommoded or distressed any one. Then there was Bert, down-town, battling with a disaster which had thrown him completely from his feet. Poor Bert! She had by no means forgotten him, even amid the height of her excitement. She should have been there to comfort him; and yet, well, he had not seen fit to come to her for comfort. Men were queer creatures. A woman, when disaster overtook her, did not need to deaden her intelligence. She needed it then more than ever.

After all, though, Bert was a man, and that was the way of men, and there was no use to dream of overturning the entire accepted order of creation. She was certain, however, that she could be of more help to Bert after they were married. He was weaker than she had thought.

Very well. Sledge had thrown down the gage of battle. He had laughed when he was threatened, and had ruined Bert, in challenging defiance. Let him now take the consequences. If he went to the penitentiary, well and good. He had probably sent other people there, with no more qualms of mercy than she would now show to him. She could be as ruthless as he. What was it Professor Watt had called the quality? Elemental force, that was it. Well, she possessed it, too. She felt it within her, stirring with the same physical nascency as the virility of parenthood, to which it was so closely allied.

Sledge came back with her card.

"Next dance," he said, showing her the name of Lord Bunnchase opposite the tenth number. "Took it away from Mrs. Allerton."

In spite of her anger, Molly snickered.

"Does Mrs. Allerton know that her number ten dance was to have been with a title?" she asked, with a sudden intense desire to giggle it over with Fern.

"Not yet. He's only Edgar Chase on her card. She thought she was winning when Cameron gave her the lead-ore millionaire instead."

"It's like politics," Molly commented, feeling a vague distant thrill for the intricacies of the game.

"Everything's politics," he rumbled. "You like this house, don't you?"

"I think it's the most wonderful place in the world," she declared.

"I doped that out tonight," he stated. "It's got all the fancy lugs you spoke about yesterday. Waver don't want to sell it. I just asked him."

She laughed again, even in the midst of her rising anger.

"You won't need a house," she informed him, really gloating over his coming downfall. "You've run the world long enough. We're going to stop you—Bert and I."

He favored her with a sample of the laugh which his political enemies never heard without a shiver, and he turned upon her eyes which were freezing in their insolent contempt, not of her particularly, but of everything.

"Quit bluffing," he protested. "I don't."

"Nor am I!" she hotly retorted. "You have broken Bert, as you promised. Now he will break you!"

"I'm waiting," he chuckled. "Where's pretty Bert? Soused!"

She jumped from her seat. She searched wildly for some retort, but could not find it.

"Don't get sore, Molly," he kindly advised her. "I don't want to lead you up to any more trouble, but I will if I have to. You can't marry Bert. You're too smart a woman. Ten years from now he'll rattle around at your side like a dried pea."

"That's one thing you can't dictate!" she furiously told him, standing tall and straight, with clenched fists, in the moonlight. He again commended his choice as he looked at her. "I'll be Bert's wife in less than a month."

She left him in ponderous contemplation of her on the settee, and hurried into the house, with a half-formed plan of going home, and sending Dicky Reynolds or some one in search of Bert, but the mayor met her, and had introduced her to Lord Bunnchase, and sent her in the direction of the ball-room on that titled gentleman's arm, before she quite knew what was happening to her.

Happy, Happy Wash Day! "SKITCH" Made It So

No More Rubbing Clothes on a Washboard—No More Making Your Hands Tender and Sore in Hot Suds—Use "SKITCH."

Who'd be so foolish as to rub clothes on a wash-board now when SKITCH will clean your clothes better and quicker without rubbing? SKITCH is a wonder! Use three teaspoons of SKITCH to a boilerful of clothes and it just skitches the dirt out of the clothes while you sit and rest or do up your other work. Mrs. Alice Juhre of 540 Stowell Ave., Milwaukee, says: "My clothes are all out on the line now by 9 o'clock. It used to be 12 and often later before I was done. And I would be so worn out from bending over a wash-board. SKITCH is a perfect god-send to women."

Don't worry for a minute that SKITCH can hurt your clothes. SKITCH positively is guaranteed not to injure the finest fabric. It's so harmless you can even eat a handful of it without hurt.

Get a 10 cent package of SKITCH from your grocer and try it—seven big washings in every package—just a little over a cent to save the hard work of a wash day—less than the soap used in the rubbing would cost. If your grocer won't supply you with SWITCH send his name to me and I'll send you a free sample. Hans Fichtenberg, Milwaukee, Wis.

Gets Right Twist On Rheumatism

Makes Short Work of Cleaning Out Your Entire System—Aches and Pains Go Fast.

In S. S. S. You Get a Twist on Rheumatism that Settles It.

Many a rheumatic sufferer has been to the drug store for a bottle of S. S. S. and been handed something claimed to be "Just as good." Truly, to ask for bread and be given a stone is still in practice. If you are troubled with rheumatism in any form be sure to use S. S. S. and note its wonderful influence.

S. S. S. has the peculiar action of soaking through the intestines directly into the blood. In five minutes its influence is at work in every artery, vein and tiny capillary. Every membrane, every organ of the body, every emunctory becomes in effect a filter to strain the blood of impurities. The stimulating properties of S. S. S. compel the skin, liver, bowels, kidneys, bladder to all work to the one end of casting out every irritating, every pain-inflicting atom of poison; it dislodges by irrigation all accumulations in the joints, causes acid accretions to disolve, renders them neutral and scatters those peculiar formations in the nerve centers that cause such mystifying and often baffling rheumatic pains.

And best of all this remarkable remedy is welcome to the weakest stomach. If you have drugged yourself until your stomach is nearly paralyzed, you will be astonished to find that S. S. S. gives no sensation but goes right to work. This is because it is a pure vegetable infusion, is taken naturally into your blood just as pure air is inhaled naturally into your lungs.

Get a bottle of S. S. S. today, and ask for S. S. S.

You may depend upon it that the store that sells you what you ask for is a good place to trade. Write to the Swift Specific Co., 204 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., for their Book on Rheumatism.

NEURALGIC PAINS

These may be felt in any nerve of the body but are most frequent in the nerves of the head. Neuralgia may be caused by a decayed tooth, eye-strain or a diseased ear but the most common cause is general debility accompanied by anemia, or thin blood.

For this reason women who work too hard or dance too much and who do not get sufficient rest, sleep and fresh air, are the most frequent sufferers from neuralgia and sciatica, which is neuralgia of the sciatic nerve.

Nutrition for the nerves is the correct treatment for neuralgia and the only way to nourish the nerves is through the blood. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills supply to the blood just the elements it needs to increase its capacity to carry nourishment to starved nerves. They have proved helpful in so many cases of neuralgia and sciatica that any sufferer from these troubles is fully justified in giving these pills a trial. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills contain no harmful or habit-forming drugs and may be taken for any length of time with perfect safety.

The pamphlet "Diseases of the Nervous System," is free to you if you mention this paper. Address: The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

SAM JOHNSON UP ON AWFUL CHARGE

"Incompatibility of Ideas" Is Accusation Franklin Club Must Sift Against Socialist

JUDGE LANGSTADT ON BENCH

Mock Trial to Be Held Feb. 11 at North Side Hall; Johnson Gets Help

Samuel Johnson, socialist, will be tried on the charge of incompatibility of ideas Thursday, February 11, at 8 o'clock, in Fjelstad hall, Caledonia and St. Paul streets. The Franklin club as plaintiff, charges that Johnson, although for many years claiming to be allied with the social democratic party, has at sundry times advanced ideas contrary to the precepts of the party.

Judge Herman Langstadt will preside at the trial. Club attorney Otto Schlabach will head the prosecution. Johnson has retained P. W. Mahoney as his counsel. Sheriff W. E. Barber has received instructions to keep the defendant in close custody.

ENGLAND WORSTED BY FRANKLIN CLUB

North Side Orators Convince Judges Interference with Shipping Is Unjustifiable

MUCH DAMAGE HAS BEEN DONE

Right of British to Search American Vessels for Contraband Is Admitted

England cannot rightly be upheld in her interference with American shipping decided the Frankling club at its weekly meeting in Fjelstad hall last night.

The negative won unanimously on the question, "Resolved, that England's course in interfering with United States commerce is justifiable."

P. W. Mahoney, John Bateman and Harry Robinson upheld the negative of the debate. The affirmative side advanced by W. E. Barber, H. G. Hayden and Harry Spence.

The affirmative seemed unable throughout the debate to prove that England is right in holding up practically every American ship that falls into her hands when they are billed to neutral countries. The action, the negative held, has injured American shipping interests to the extent of thousands of dollars through damage to cargoes on account of rough handling and delay to perishable goods.

That England can rightly search for contraband aboard American ships bound for hostile countries, was admitted.

SAGE TEA TURNS GRAY HAIR DARK

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Bring Back Color and Lustre to Hair.

That beautiful, even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray, streaked and looks dry, wispy and scraggy, just an application or two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't bother to prepare the tonic; you can get from any drug store a 50-cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," ready to use. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color, thickness and lustre of your hair and remove dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair.

Everybody uses "Wyeth's" Sage and Sulphur because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy, lustrous and abundant.

DRYS WOULD END TOWN

SANDSTONE, Minn., Jan. 29.—Dry workers today started a fight to wipe Banning, two miles away, off the official map, claiming this was the only way to get rid of saloons there. The contention of the drys is that Banning's six lone voters have been molesting the dryness of the community. The village is dry.

Help the Stomach Digest Your Food

When the stomach fails to digest and distribute that which is eaten, the bowels become clogged with a mass of waste and refuse that ferments and generates poisons that are gradually forced into the blood, causing distress and often serious illness.

Most people naturally object to the drastic cathartic and purgative agents that shock the system. A mild, gentle laxative, positive in its effect and that will quickly relieve constipation is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, sold by druggists at fifty cents and one dollar a bottle. It does not gripe or cramp, but acts easily and pleasantly and is therefore the most satisfactory remedy for children, women and elderly persons. For a free trial bottle write to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 452 Washington St., Monticello, Ills.

SULLIVAN HURLS COUNTER CHARGES

U. S. Minister to Santo Domingo Explains His Conduct and Accuses His Accuser

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—The official probe into the fitness of James Mark Sullivan for the post of United States minister to Santo Domingo probably will be resumed Tuesday at Washington, it was announced today by Commissioner James D. Phelan.

The New York hearings were discontinued late yesterday when the written defense of Minister Sullivan was entered in the records.

The charges made by Walter W. Vick, former receiver general of Dominican customs are collectively and singly denied by Minister Sullivan in his defense. Sullivan also makes several counter charges against his accused which Vick vehemently termed "absolute lies", when they were read to him.

In reply to the charges that he indiscreetly favored the Banco National, the only American bank on the island, thereby causing bad feeling among the natives, Sullivan said he caused the government funds to be removed to the American bank only after he learned that Vick was contemplating taking the money to the Royal Bank of Canada.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Jan. 29.—Prof. W. F. Allen of the University of Minnesota today was a free man after spending twenty-four hours in the local jail penned with convicted criminals. A grand jury found "no bill" against him for having shot to death Earl Nyrall, supposed by the professor to have been a burglar.

ANTI-VICE MAN IS IN LA CROSSE

C. W. Arnold, head of the "Anti-Vice Crusade," Minneapolis, was in La Crosse yesterday.

Arnold is fighting the Sunday theater, the clairvoyant, the personal want ad column, and immoral agencies.

"I have pitted myself against a $180,000,000 theater trust," says Mr. Arnold, "that will fight to save for itself the most profitable day in the week."

Mr. Arnold claims that of 2,200 girls on his records who have disappeared from home during the past thirty-four months, fifty per cent were last seen in Sunday moving picture shows. He claims that the Sunday show is more harmful than the week-day show.

"Dickensy" Names.

"Dickensy" names are to be discovered in the most unlikely localities, as those whose travels take them to Burgundy may have discovered. In Macon there is a Rue Dombey, which, apart from its name, is worth exploring for the sake of one or two fifteenth century timber houses with most quaintly carved fronts. And by a strange conincidence, on the banks of the Saone, about seven miles out of Macon, there is a village called Boz.

You are apt to have good neighbors if you are good to them.

COMMITTEE NAMED FOR BOARD QUIZ

Five Legislators to Take Up Governor's Plan to Reduce State Commissions

MADISAN, Wis., Jan. 29.—(Special.)—The two houses of the state legislature named their representatives on the committee which will investigate the commissions and boards of the state government today.

The members of the investigating committee appointed under the Johnson resolution are Senators E. T. Fairchild and Platt Whitman and Assemblymen B. L. Van Gordon, George Harrington and John B. Heim.

The confirmation of Walter Alexander, named state railroad commissioner by Governor Philipp, was postponed for one week.

The appointment of James C. Davidson as president of the state board of control, was brought into the senate but was laid over under the rules until next Wednesday.

Expect Fight Over Alexander

It seems likely there will be a fight over the confirmation of the appointment of Alexander. He is being opposed by the democrats, who do not like the fact that there is no democrat on the commission, and by the progressive republicans, who object to the appointment of a railroad man on the commission.

The following committees were named in the senate:

Committee on conservation—Ackley, Hanson, Kellogg, Stevens, Tomkins.

Highways—Bennett, Bichler, Cunningham, Everett, Staudenmeyer.

TAX "STAND-OFF" IS FAVORED HERE

Mayor Sorensen Calls Special Session of Council to Ratify New Nye Law

In order that La Crosse tax payers may benefit by the new Nye tax deferment law signed by Gov. Phillip yesterday, Mayor Ori Sorensen has called a special meeting of the city council to be held tomorrow evening to meet the law's requirements.

Under the new law the time for payment of taxes is extended from February 1 to March 1, without the exaction of a penalty, provided city councils and town boards make resolutions to that effect. Town boards throughout La Crosse county also will meet tomorrow for similar action.

La Crosse, as a city, will lose nothing by the new accommodation which is to be extended its taxpayers. There is now more than $300,000 in the city's coffers, according to William Fries, city comptroller, which will easily tide the city over the next thirty days.

According to the county treasurer, La Crosse county also has plenty of money on hand to carry on its work until March.

ELIOT APPROVES ROCKEFELLER PLAN

President Emeritus of Harvard University Denies Foundation Poisoned Education at Source

OBJECTS TO LABOR'S DEMANDS

Declares Their Attempts to Limit Hours of Labor Proceed Along Mistaken Theory

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—Paying high tribute to the benefactions of John D. Rockefeller, Charles W. Eliot, president emeritus of Harvard college, today defended the Rockefeller foundation and the general education board from the charge that they "have poisoned education at the source."

"Education in this country has been in the past largely conducted by chartered corporations. And these corporations as well as all charitable, religious and philanthropic effort have been far better for the country than any effort of the government," he said.

Members of Foundations

Dr. Elliott said he was a member of the Generation Education board, the Rockefeller foundation, and of the Carnegie Peace foundation. He saw no objection to interlocking directorates in endowed foundations.

"It makes for efficiency," he said.

Rockefeller offered Harvard $1,000,000 for medical school equipment, Dr. Eliot said, on condition that Harvard raised $875,000.

"I accepted on the spot," he said.

Dr. Eliot defended his claim that $250 a year was a sufficient income for residents of the Island of Mount Desert, Maine. But he explained that there fishing was good, the inhabitants have their wood lots and their gardens, and little opportunity for relaxation. He refused, however, to estimate what he thought the minimum wages should be for workers in other cities and towns of the country.

Eat Too Costly Food

"I am certain that the diet of the families of laboring men costs too much and is far from the proper sort, so far as nutrition is concerned," he said. "We all eat too much, especially meat, and could save much money if we would only plan a scientific diet."

Dr. Eliot said he believed in organized labor under certain conditions. But their present methods are improper, he declared, especially in their action to limit the hours of labor and the extent of production.

John Hays Hammond, noted mining engineer, took direct issue with all of the millionaires who have preceded him in discussing causes of strikes. He declared it would be decidedly improper for directors to permit delegations of employes to appeal to them over the heads of the active managers when strikes threaten.

"Every wage earner in the country willing to work is entitled to employment," said Hammond. "If necessary the government should provide employment rather than have self-respecting and deserving wage-earners become objects of charity."

MEN AND DOGS SET ADR'FT ON ICE FLOES IN LAKE ERIE

Passing Steamer Breaks up Shore Pack and Fishermen Numbering 1,400 are in Danger Until Rescued

BUFFALO, N. Y., Jan. 29.—Fourteen hundred fishermen and 120 dogs were near death for a considerable period yesterday afternoon when floes of shore ice through which they were fishing broke loose and drifted out to sea. Eleven hundred were rescued by three tugs and the steamer Samuel Mather, which smashed a path eight miles long and a hundred feet wide through the ice in the harbor to reach the marooned men. The rest of them are believed to have escaped farther up the lake shore, where a wind took the floe inshore again. Some may still be adrift.

BURNS NAMED IN PERJURY CASES

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 29. — The name of William J. Burns, detective, was dragged into the trial of his three agents, charged with subornation of perjury today. The cases grew out of the affidavit made by the Rev. C. B. Ragadale, in which the minister alleges he heard Jim Conley, the negro accuser of Leo Frank, confess the murder of Mary Phagan. Ragadale afterwards declared he was paid to make this affidavit.

BERLIN ALLEGES RUMANIA IS NOT TO HELP ALLIES

BERLIN, via Sayville, Jan. 29.—Bucharest newspapers and former Prime Minister Carp of Roumania, were quoted by the official press bureau today as ridiculing reports that Roumania is about to enter the war on the side of the allies.

Carp, the press bureau said, asserted it would be more to Roumania's interest to gain possession of the Russian province of Bessarabia than to invade Transylvania. The Bucharest newspaper Vittoroul flatly contradicts reports of negotiations between Roumania and Russia regarding Transylvania and Buckowina, the press bureau said.

MRS. SMITH HERE FOR MANY YEARS

Well-known Woman Who Died Here Was Native of Pine Creek, Minn.; Married in Sparta in 1889

Mrs. Minnie Potter Smith, wife of Thomas Smith, who died here yesterday, was a native of Pine Creek, Minn. She was born October 19, 1863, and became the wife of Thomas Smith in Sparta in 1889. Since that time the family has lived in La Crosse. Mr. Smith is the only surviving relative.

During many years of active service Mrs. Smith was a devoted member of the First Methodist church. She was a teacher in the Sunday school and a worker in the mercy and help department of the Epworth league. She was also a prominent member of the W. C. T. U.

A friend who was with Mrs. Smith at the end said today that her last words—"The Lord is my shepherd, I shall not want"—were an echo of her daily life of unselfish service, devoted to the sick, the poor and the needy.

The body of Mrs. Smith may be viewed by friends at the First Methodist church from 1:30 tomorrow afternoon until 3 o'clock, when the funeral services will be held. Rev. Fraser of the Caledonia Street Methodist church, will officiate, Rev. T. Stanley Oadams, pastor of the First church, being out of the city.

David Potter of Winnipeg, a nephew, and Mrs. Sara Westwick, Galena, Ill., a niece, are here for the funeral.

FARWELL COMPANY REPORTS PROGRESS

Wholesale Dry Goods Trade Shows Improvement with Firm Market Is the Declaration

CHICAGO, Jan. 29.—In its weekly review of trade the John F. Farwell company will say:

Wholesale dry goods business is showing some improvement as more buyers are arriving in the market. From letters received asking for tickets to the fashion show an unusual number of our of town buyers will be in the city during the week of February 8. Market today is firm on desirable wool dress fabrics. Retail buyers who would not give confirmations in November are now taking up and giving assortments on quantity business. Manufacturers of wool dress goods are now making prices for fall, which in all cases show advance over prices of six months ago—in some cases fully twelve per cent. Palmetta and covert cloths are the leading fabrics and all plain goods in the new shades—battleship gray, putty, and sand—are selling well.

Plain linen handkerchiefs are selling freely for at once and fall delivery. Belfast reports indicate low stocks of handkerchief linens.

Demand for plain and fancy hemstitched scrims continues to be a feature of the drapery business. This material made up into curtains with lace edge and insertion is now very popular.

Advance glove business—particularly silk gloves—compares favorably with last year.

HOUSE DISCUSSES NAVAL STRENGTH

Big and Little Navy Advocates Debate on Naval Appropriations Bill in Lower Body

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—America's naval strength and that of the European belligerents were compared and analyzed in the house today. The issue of naval preparedness loomed large in the debate begun on the annual naval appropriation bill.

"Big" and "little" navy advocates engaged the whole day in verbal warfare under an agreement to talk late into the night before beginning real consideration of the naval program.

The United States navy was pictured on one hand as inadequate either for defense or offense. Foes of a larger navy declared aggression is not planned by this government and that the present navy is adequate for defense purposes.

Representative Stephens of California urged more protection for the Pacific coast.

MAN WHO KILLED WIFE ALSO DIES

Poison He Took Is Fatal; Another Woman Today Declares Herself His Widow

HOUSTON, Texas, Jan. 29.—Ward S. Snyder died today from the effects of poison taken after he killed his wife in the Baptist sanitarium yesterday.

Claims to be Wife

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Jan. 29.—That she is the wife of Ward Snyder and that he has never been divorced from her was the declaration of Mrs. Ada Snyder, of West Seventh street, Tarentum, this afternoon. Mrs. Snyder says that she married the son of the millionaire oil man five years ago, in St. Louis. They lived together at the Snyder home here for three years, she said. Hard drinking by Snyder forced a separation, she asserted.

The home of Mrs. Snyder is here. She was Miss Ada Pyle before he alleged married to Snyder.

CARNATIONS PAY M'KINLEY TRIBUTE

Thousands of pink carnations in evidence today in the lapels of La Crosseites bore mute testimony to the undying memory of William McKinley, this generation's martyred president. There was a run on pinks all day at the various florists and nurseries. The carnation was McKinley's favorite flower.

Forgiving would be easier if forgetting were.

"Whys" of European War Moves Explained By Military Expert

BY J. W. T. MASON

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—11 a. m.—Next week will see the first units of the new armies that have completed their six months' training move to the front, in preparation for the second offensive phase of the war. How the proportion of fighting strength will result when both sides have completed their reinforcing movements can only be roughly aproximated. The basic data does not relate to men but to munitions. All the nations at war are feeling the strain of supplying the enormous quantities of war stores their armies demand, and all have more men than equipment. The problem of estimating what the new fighting strength of the rival forces will be in the spring is therefore complicated by the inability of the world's war factories to keep up the killing pace of the battlefields.

The only official figures of present combatants are those issued by the French war office last month, which gave 2,236,000 as the German strength in the west, and 924,000 as the German strength in the east. Both English and French official reports have confessed that the German western armies are numerically stronger than the allies, but not how much stronger. The London war office, however, has announced there are now four British armies in France. The strength of a British army probably is two army corps, of 35,000 men each. This would make the British strength on the continent 280,000. It is possible the Belgians have been able to replace casualties to the extent of keeping up their strength to 50,000. The French strength cannot be greater than 1,700 000 because of the equipment problem, and may not be as much as this. At most, therefore the western allies now have 2,030,000 troops fully equipped or 200,000 less than the German strength in the west.

Kitchener's new army of a million men ought to be fully equipped by the spring, but it is improbable that the French will be able to add greatly to their own forces. Filling the depleted French ranks has undoubtedly made heavy demands on France's trained men. The French force probably cannot be increased more than 200,000 by the spring, making the total number of the allies in the west about 3,300,000.

It is reasonable to assume that Germany can meet this new force man for man. But it will not be necessary for her to do so, if purely defensive campaign is decided upon, since the allies have been able to hold their own with numerical inferiority. Germany probably will consider herself capable of meeting the allies 3,300,000 troops with no more than 3,000,000.

The spring campaign in the west, therefore, may see 6,300,000 men pitted against each other. The eastern situation may develop so as to compel Germany to deplete still further her western fighting force. This is, in fact, the unknown part of the problem. To Germany's present eastern strength of 924,000 must be added probably 1,500,000 Austrians, making a total of 2,242,000. Russia probably has approximately the same number. Austria and Germany may be able to raise their joint strength to 3,000 000 men by spring. Whether Russia can surpass this is improbable but the matter is not certain. If the Slavs can do no more than equal the strength of the Teutonic alliance there will be a total of 6,000,000 men in the eastern battle lines, excluding the Turkish and Servian campaigns. Possibly 700,000 more men will be under arms there. The completed total of fighting men this spring may see at all the fronts is, therefore, approximately 13,000,000.

MAMMA, DADDY AND CHILDREN ALL LOVE "CALIFORNIA SYRUP OF FIGS."

Harmless "fruitlaxative" cleanses stomach, liver and bowels

A delicious cure for constipation, biliousness sick headache, sour stomach, indigestion, coated tongue, sallowness—take "California Syrup of Figs." For the cause of all this distress lies in a torpid liver and sluggish bowels.

A tablespoonful tonight means all constipation, poison, waste matter, fermenting food and sour bile gently moved out of your system by morning without griping. Please don't think of "California Syrup of Figs" as a physic. Don't think you are drugging yourself or your children, because this delicious fruit laxative can not cause injury. Even a delicate child can take it as safely as a robust man. It is the most harmless, effective stomach, liver and bowel regulator and tonic ever devised.

Your only difficulty may be in getting the genuine; so ask your druggist for a 50 cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs." Say to your druggist, "I want only that made by the 'California Fig Syrup Company.'" This city has many counterfeit "fig syrups," so watch out.

OPTIMISM REIGNS IN PHILHARMONIC

Local Orchestra Looks Forward to Successful Event Next Thursday Evening

ALL LOCAL STARS FOR SOLOISTS

Misses Anna Hickisch and Florence Hermann Will Appear with Prof. Rawstron

Everything is splendid for the Philharmonic society which gives its concert Thursday evening, February 4th at the La Crosse Theater. Optimism expresses it mildly. The Philharmonic's good cheer is based on solid facts of accomplishments and a few things like the following: Just the right soloists have been secured, Miss Anna Hickisch and Miss Florence Hermann; every good amateur is playing with the society; the union "boys" are as one man for the society; the board of trade has just endorsed it; the business men have subscribed liberally and the treasury is full and the financial affairs are most prosperous; new and valuable directors for the governing board have been elected, Mr. Geo. W. Burton, Mr. F. A. Cotton, Mr. Wm. Doerflinger, Mr. A. L. Goetzmann, and Mr. C. S. Van Auken; many business firms are donating flowers, stage equipment, chairs, printing, personal services and the whole town its good will, so no wonder the members wear the smile that stays.

A few words concerning the soloists is in order:

Miss Anna Hickisch, La Crosse's most famous vocalist, one who has captured many laurels both in the United States and abroad, a splendid artist both on the concert stage and in grand opera, needs no introduction to her own people.

Miss Florence Herman, the violin soloist of the concert, makes her debut this night. She too is a La Crosse girl and one with the brightest future that a La Crosse artist has had for many a day. It is a happy provision of the Philharmonic to have its star performers belong to La Crosse without sacrificing artistic merit. Miss Hermann comes here from Chicago where she is studying, to play for the concert.

Mr. F. W. Rawstron, pupil of the late Charles Handel Tovey, Royal Academy of Music, London, England; and the late Herr Kundermann, Weisbaden, Germany; six years accompanist to the English Prize choir, and the director of the La Crosse Philharmonic society, hardly needs any special commendation musically, but he does need a bit more introduction to La Crosse where he and his talented wife have decided to make their home. Mr. Rawstron came here with the highest commendations to take charge of the late lamented La Crosse School of Music. He has made the Philharmonic all it is by his ability, insisting on only the best music, guiding the club amidst the shoals that smash most amateur organizations. He has done it for the love of the thing and all credit is due him. He will play a piano solo with orchestra accompaniment at the concert.

Beyond the fact that they chased him from the busy haunts, a hermit is not bossed by the women.

"TWILIGHT SLEEP" DENOUNCED HERE

Dr. Adolph Gunderson Declares German "Discovery" Is Just "Get Rich Quick Scheme"

LOCAL WOMAN SLEPT 48 HOURS

Hospital Practitioners in La Crosse Abandoned Scopolamin Ten Years Ago

"Twilight sleep," the alleged wonderful form of near anesthesia, through which eastern medical men have been extensively advertising themselves recently, is denounced as a "get-rich-quick scheme" by Dr. Adolph Gunderson of La Crosse, today. Dr. Gunderson declares he used the treatment in La Crosse ten years ago with indifferent success and abandoned it as too dangerous to human life.

At that time the doctor was much interested in "scopolamin", the basic drug used with morphine, according to the recipe said to have been discovered in Germany. He used the treatment in operations for removal of goitre and it was generally discussed by La Crosse surgeons in La Crosse hospitals for more than a year until Dr. Gunderson abandoned the treatment.

"I found its use was unreliable and at times dangerous," said the doctor today. "It acted differently on different patients. It has been used with wonderful success at times but cannot be relied upon to produce a uniform result in all cases."

Woman Sleeps 48 Hours

Dr. Gunderson experimented with scopolamin until one woman, upon whom it was used could not be brought back to consciousness for forty-eight hours. He said the drug often leaves bad effects which never are found after the use of ether or chloroform.

That the treatment is a new discovery, he said is false. According to Dr. Gunderson, it was used by surgeons all over the world before it became known to the public through the vast advertising given it recently.

"'Twilight sleep' is simply an application of scopolamin, and nothing else," said the doctor. "It is merely a money-making scheme."

WEIGLE IS NAMED TO SUCCEED EMERY

Governor Appoints Milwaukee Druggist as State Dairy and Food Officer

MADISON, Wis., Jan. 29.—(Special.)—Governor Philipp this morning sent to the senate for confirmation the name of former State Senator George J. Weigle of Milwaukee as state dairy and food commissioner to succeed J. Q. Emery. If confirmed Mr. Weigle will assume his office on February 1. His salary will be $3,000 a year and the appointment is for a term of two years. Commissioner Emery received $2,500 a year, the same as has been paid state dairy and food commisioners since 1889. The last legislature increased it to take effect with the next appointment to this office.

Senator Weigle is a pharmacist in Milwaukee. He has been secretary and treasurer of Thompson's Malted Food company, Milwaukee. He was elected state senator in 1910 but was not active in the recent political campaign.

Austria's Day of Defeat.

At the battle of Magenta in 1859 during the Italian war, the French and Sardinians defeated the Austrians at a loss to the latter of 10,000 in killed and 7,000 in prisoners, while the allies only lost 4,000. For this victory the French marshal, MacMahon, was created duke of Magenta by the Emperor Louis Napoleon.

WANT CENTRAL COMM TTEE TO HANDLE APPROPRIATIONS

Plan Suggested Whereby Knife Can be Applied to Supply Bills in House—May Drop "Pork Barl"

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29—Creation of a central appropriations committee to handle all supply bills in the house was a prospect today as the result of the administration's latest economy dictum.

Chairman Fitzgerald of the present appropriations committee, is favorable to such a plan, it is understood and there is strong probability that it will be urged in the next session of congress.

"Prune appropriations or face a bond issue," was the ultimatum facing congress, because of treasury deficit. The alternative of slashing the supply bills was the plan practically agreed to by leaders.

Material reduction, if not entire elimination, of the $34,000,000 rivers and harbors "pork" barrel was declared certain. Reduction of the postoffice appropriation bill, in line with economies proposed by Postmaster General Burleson was also under serious consideration.

Rosemary Has Learned.

Rosemary, aged two, was being brought up carefully by a mother who did not approve of slang. She had always played alone, but had recently had as a playmate a group of little neighbor boys. Shortly afterward her dignified grandfather came to the door as she was being put to bed, and said, "Good night, baby." Her mother's horror may easily be imagined when she heard her daughter call, "Dood night, danpa, old kid."

HOW WOMEN AVOID OPERATIONS

By Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Cleveland, Ohio—"My left side pained me so for several years that I expected to have to undergo an operation, but the first bottle I took of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound relieved me of the pains in my side and I continued its use until I became regular and free from pains. I had asked several doctors if there was anything I could take to help me and they said there was nothing that they knew of. I am thankful for such a good medicine and will always give it the highest praise."—Mrs. C. H. GRIFFITH, 1568 Constant St., Cleveland, Ohio.

Hanover, Pa.—"I suffered from female trouble and the pains were so bad at times that I could not sit down. The doctor advised a severe operation but my husband got me Lydia E. What joy and happiness it is to be well once more. I am always ready and willing to speak a good word for the Compound."—Mrs. ADA WILT, 303 Walnut St., Hanover, Pa.

BABY'S CRY SAVES SIX

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Jan. 29.—A crying infant saved six lives here today. Awakened from the stupor of near asphyxiation, just before daylight by cries of Edna, his five-months-old daughter, John Horay, 34, staggered to the open air and called "Help." Passersby summoned police who used a pulmoter to revive Horay's wife and three other children. A leaking gas stove had flooded the rooms with fumes.

AT ONCE! STOPS STOMACH MISERY AND INDIGESTION

"Pape's Diapepsin" makes sick, sour, gassy Stomachs feel fine.

Do some foods you eat hit back—taste good, but work badly; ferment into stubborn lumps and cause a sick, sour, gassy stomach? Now, Mr. or Mrs. Dyspeptic, jot this down: Pape's Diapepsin digests everything, leaving nothing to sour and upset you. There never was anything so safely quick, so certainly effective. No difference how badly your stomach is disordered you will get happy relief in five minutes, but what pleases you most is that it strengthens and regulates your stomach so you can eat your favorite foods without fear.

Most remedies give you relief sometimes—they are slow, but not sure. "Pape's Diapepsin" is quick, positive and puts your stomach in a healthy condition so the misery won't come back.

You feel different as soon as "Pape's Diapepsin" comes in contact with the stomach—distress just vanishes—your stomach gets sweet, no gases, no belching, no eructations of undigested food, your head clears and you feel fine.

No now, make the best investment you ever made, by getting a large fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin from any drug store. You realize in five minutes how needless it is to suffer from indigestion, dyspepsia or any stomach disorder.

THE ROAD To HEALTH

"Gold that buys HEALTH can never be ill spent."—Webster in "Westward Ho."

By DR. J. M. FURSTMAN Health Commissioner.

PNEUMONIA

What is pneumonia? Pneumonia is an inflammation of the lungs which may be produced by any one or more of several varieties of micro-organisms under certain conditions. The extent and character of the inflammation varies more or less with the condition of the person and with the variety and the character of the attacking organism.

The most common organism amongst this group producing pneumonia is the pneumococcus. It either produces a primary pneumonia or a secondary pneumonia (pneumonia developing with or just after another disease).

Pneumonia is a winter disease principally because winter is the season of close housing and consequent bad breathing conditions. The physical tone of the average person grows lower as the winter progresses. The colder the winter—the tighter the housing—the lower the physical tone—the higher the pneumonia death rate.

Prevention

It has been proven that these organisms that are present produce pneumonia are usually present in the throats in healthy individuals in almost, or even fully, as virulent a condition as when found in those suffering from pneumonia. This means that we are constantly in danger of becoming infected with organisms present in the throat secretions of others—acquiring dangerous varieties or adding to those already possessed. Why, then, do not more people develop pneumonia, either through auto-infection of lungs or from others? The chief reason is that, ordinarily, the individual's body cells and fluids display great resistance. Another, is that the pneumococcus, the chief offender, is killed by sunlight and drying, so it does not long survive under the usual conditions obtaining outside of the body. A third reason is that the number of virulent organisms present in health is not as great as the number present in disease; hence, the few usually present can be more easily coped with by the natural defenses of the body.

With regard to prevention, these facts mean two things: First, since the conveyance of these germs is usually by quite direct infection—that is, through particles of sputum expelled in talking, coughing or sneezing, near enough to another person to be projected on the mucous membrane of the lips or nose, or through really direct contact such as kissing—such conveyance may be largely controlled by personal habits. Second, and most important, the individual resistance, should be made sufficient to withstand the entrance of organisms which may be so conveyed. This last is our weak point. We do not know enough about the nature of individual resistance, and about the conditions affecting such resistance, to know whether we may be able definitely to determine when the resistance is lowered, and just might be done to increase it.

We know certain factors which lower a person's general resistance, and which seem to act as special contributary causes in producing pneumonia, such as fatigue, exposures to extremes of heat or cold, remaining in stagnant atmosphere, use of alcohol, certain infectious diseases, and so on, but we are in doubt as to whether specific prophylactic measures may be developed to overcome impart at least, the effect of these predisposing factors.

LABOR ASKS LAW FOR ENLIGHTENING STRIKE BREAKERS

Workmen Must Not Be Fooled by Posters or Otherwise if Hart Bill Passes

MADISON, Wis., Jan. 29.—(Special.)—A bill prohibiting deceptive means of bringing employes into the state, or from another place or city in the state, for the purpose of breaking a strike or aiding in a lockout by a company was introduced in the assembly today by Assemblyman Charles F. Hart of Oshkosh. The lessons upon which the provisions of the bill are based are drawn from the recent labor troubles in Colorado. Assemblyman Carl Minkley of Milwaukee has introduced a measure along the same line, but the Hart bill today is of more far-reaching effect.

The Hart bill makes it unlawful or engage workmen to change from one place of employment in the state to another through the means of any false or deceptive representations, false advertising or false pretenses concerning the kind and character of the work to be done, the amount of wages to be paid or the sanitary or other conditions of employment, "or as to the existence or non-existence of a strike or lockout pending between the employer and employes, or a failure to state in any advertisement, proposal or contract for the employment that there is a strike, lockout or other labor trouble at the place of the proposed employment."

B. Jenson of Cazenovia. He will have the laws printed in pamphlet form and sent to the people on request instead.

MY TIRED FEET ACHED FOR "TIZ"

Let your sore, swollen, aching feet spread out in a bath of "TIZ."

Just take your shoes off and then put those weary, shoe-crinkled, aching, burning, corn-pestered, bunion-tortured feet of yours in a "TIZ" bath. Your toes will wriggle with joy; they'll look up at you and almost talk and then thex'll take another dive in that "TIZ" bath.

When your feet feel like lumps of lead—all tired out—just try "TIZ." It's grand—it's glorious. Your feet will dance with joy; also you will find all pain gone from corns, callouses and bunions.

There's nothing like "TIZ." It's the only remedy that draws out all the poisonous exudations which puff up your feet and cause foot torture.

Get a 25 cent box of "TIZ" at any drug or department store—don't wait. Ah! how glad your feet get; how comfortable your shoes feel. You can wear shoes a size smaller if you desire.

SPOTLIGHTS

"TODAY"

The enviable record of having had the longest run on Broadway of any drama presented during the past year is held by "Today", the sensational success which will be seen at La Crosse Theater tomorrow, matinee and night. The record of having played an entire season at the 48th Street Theater is one that has not been reached by any of its rivals, and can be explained only by the illuminating fact that "Today" would never have won this distinction if it had not satisfied a real appetite of the theater-going public.

Far and wide, both press and public have proclaimed "Today" as the great and long-awaited American play, by our greatest playwright, George Broadhurst, because of its treatment of exclusively American subjects in a masterful American way, and arousing the entire country to the present menace of keeping up appearances.

The theme has been brought home in a startling manner, by exposing the follies of New York existence—the dangers lurking in the feminine fondness for dress, the pitfalls dug for naturally loyal wives by their women friends, the perils encountered by idle wives who devote too much of their time to the pursuit of happiness.

"BARBARA WORTH"

One of the new and most important stage offerings of the present season will be that of the big scenic production of "The Winning of Barbara Worth", which will be presented at the La Crosse Theater Sunday, matinee and night.

As the title indicates, the piece is a stage version of Harold Bell Wright's most popular novel and the dramatization which consists of a prologue and three acts, is by Mr. Mark Swan.

The story is visualized and realized. The several Western scenes, including a sand storm on the desert and several other elaborate effects, as portrayed of the wild locale of the romance, are heralded as masterpieces of stage depiction.

The wrestling game is rougher than the catch-as-catch-can dances, but a bit more modest.

FORMER HUSBAND IS HEIR BY WILL

ALTOONA, Pa., Jan. 29.—The will of Mrs. Lillie Tucker, a well-known church and temperance worker, filed at the Blair county courthouse yesterday, exemplifies the divine quality of forgiveness by giving to her divorced husband, George Tucker, a New York manufacturer, who got his decree in Reno, an estate worth about $15,000. Mr. Tucker is now cruising in southern waters with his second wife.

HIGH TO MEET BARABOO IN TIGHT GAME HERE TONIGHT

Expect Hard Won Victory for Red and Black if They Play True to Form Shown in Practice

Basketball fans will have an opportunity tonight to se a tight game when the La Crosse high quintet will meet the Baraboo high aggregation. This game is considered by high school men the hardest game which the local team will have to fight, as Baraboo defeated the strong Madison team by a score of 38 to 19.

If the red and black team plays together as well this evening as they played in practice Wednesday night, Coach Horne expects a victory. The shift which was made in Horne's lineup seems to strengthen the team considerably, as evidenced by the one sided score against the scrubs Wednesday.

The lineup has not been given out by Mr. Horne yet, but the most probable one follows: Fay, c; Grenzner, Bruha, Kulcynski, g; Zeisler, King, and Kelly f.

Following the game there will be a reception given the Baraboo men. Foster's orchestra will furnish the music for dancing.

There will be a preliminary game between the Advanced Seniors and the Advanced Sophomores.

LIFTING OF DRAFT RULE HURTS FEDS

Dropping of Draft Bars to AA Leagues Expected to Cut Into Prestige of the Federals

THREE CIRCUITS AFFECTED

Leagues Under Proposed Change Could Purchase Whatever Players Are Wanted

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—Three new major leagues, technically so, will greet the playing season of 1915. That was the outlook today with the announcement that the draft rule will be lifted from the American association. Letting down the bars for the association will necessitate doing likewise for the International league and the Pacific coast loop, and then organized baseball will have shot its latest 42-centimetre projectile at the Federals.

Next week, it is expected, all technical difficulties in the paths of the A. A. leagues will be eliminated by the national commission and the Federals will have to compete with major leagues everywhere, particularly in Indianapolis, Kansas City (if the franchise remains), and Buffalo.

Raising the rating of the three big minors will throw into their ranks many players who are now on club rosters in the National and American leagues.

The Association clubs in Indianapolis and Kansas City and the International club in Buffalo will have the power to purchase any players they wish, if they can stand the tax. The magnates believe a partial distribution of stars in these three cities particularly would do much to offset the popularity of the Federals, which has advertised itself a major league with major league players.

President Tener, it is said, does not favor the plan, but Herrman and Ban Johnson, the two other members of the national commission, do, and it is reported from a reliable source that the action will take place next week at the commission meeting here.

BASEBALL MEETING HOLDS WORK OVER

Final Consideration of Forming Club Will Be Held at Another Meeting Next Week

WILL SOLICIT BUSINESS MEN

Committee Appointed to Make Thorough Canvass of the Business Men of the City

LEAGUE WOULD BE CLASS D

Elliott Explains the Salary Limit Would Be $1,000; Club Would Have Twelve Men and Manager

Final consideration of the advisability of securing a berth for La Crosse in the Minnesota league now being formed, will be held at a meeting to be held within a week.

This was decided last night at a mass meeting of La Crosse baseball fans in the mayor's office at the city hall at which John Miller, president of the La Crosse Professional Baseball association, presided. Besides Mr. Miller there were present John Elliott, C. A. Hunt, A. W. Langenbach and Henry Rooney, with Mr. Miller, directors of the association. Twenty or more men were present.

Mr. Miller was instructed by the meeting to appoint several committees of three or five men each to confer with La Crosse business men to learn their views on the baseball proposition. A systematic canvass of the business district will be made. Subscriptions will be welcomed.

Elliott Explains League

Mr. Elliott, the first speaker, explained the nature of the proposed league. The circuit, he said, would be a Class D organization with a salary limit of $1,000. It would comprise either six or eight towns. Faribault, Owatonna, Winona, Austin and Rochester, he said, are already lined up and are awaiting the action of La Crosse. The playing season would begin about May 15 and continue until about Labor Day, approximately four months. Teams would carry twelve men and a playing manager.

Conditions Favorable

Conditions at the present time are much more favorable to professional baseball than when La Crosse was in the Wisconsin-Illinois league, Mr. Elliott said. Automobiles, he said, now play an important part in the success of any baseball organization. People with automobiles would be attracted from a radius of thirty miles by baseball, he explained, citing a case at Owatonna last summer when nine hundred autos were parked outside the ball park.

Want Younger Blood

A point made by Elliott to the effect that younger blood should take hold of the matter was approved by the other four directors of the association, Mr. Hunt and Mr. Rooney speaking. With younger men at the head of the organization, they opined, greater impetus would be given baseball in La Crosse.

KEEP URIC ACID OUT OF JOINTS

Tells Rheumatism Sufferers to Eat Less Meat and Take Salts

Rheumatism is easier to avoid than to cure, states a well-known authority. We are advised to dress warmly; keep the feet dry; avoid exposure; eat less meat, but drink plenty of good water.

Rheumatism is a direct result of eating too much meat and other rich foods that produce uric acid which is absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this acid from the blood and cast it out in the urine; the pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly cold weather the skin pores are closed thus forcing the kidneys to do double work, they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate the uric acid which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles causing stiffness, soreness and pain called rheumatism.

At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is said to eliminate uric acid by stimulating the kidneys to normal action, thus ridding the blood of these impurities.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism. Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink which helps overcome uric acid and is beneficial to your kidneys as well. For sale by Chas. eyschlag, druggist, 503 Main St.

FANATICAL FANCIES

NORTH SIDE, Wis., Jan. 29.—(By Wireless to Nelsons, thence by Gossip to Ferdy's)—The hot stove league reports a highly successful season at North Side. Reports from the front have it that General Theodore Comeau has executed a flank movement and landed in the middle of the enemy's forces, taking many prisoners and utterly routing the opposing forces.

Latest advices state that the attacking forces have done their greatest damage in the ranks of Generals Ritter and Bartel. Beranek, Roeder, Fitzki, Wall, Keaveney and others are said to be held captives in a Caledonia street fortress.

Rumors emanating from headquarters are to the effect that an early campaign is being planned against the neighboring province of Onalaska in an endeavor to gain back the ground lost in the operations of 1914.

Were it not for the fact that Peanuts Schieberl some two months ago met Matty McCue in a ten round mill at Racine to his undoing, or rather, doing up, and, further, were it not for the other fact that the Rock Island miller made his exit through the wee, small end of the horn in his fight last fall at Hudson with Billy Defoe, we might bank somewhat on his chances in his go tonight with Defoe as a semi-windup to the Ertel-Krause mix at Milwaukee.

"I thought Defoe went east," queried a fan.

"Yes, Oswald, so he did. But he went west again."

"Uhlan is Defoe's middle name," a kindhearted friend informs us.

"Business is poor," said the beggar.
Said the undertaker, "It's dead."
"Falling off," said the riding school teacher.
The druggist, "Oh, vial," he said.

"It's all write with me," said the author.
"Picking up," said the man on the dump.
"My business is sound," quoth the bondsman.
Saith the athlete, "I'm kept on the jump."

The bottler declared it was "Corking!"
The parson, "It's good," answered he.
"I make both ends meat," said the butcher.
The tailor replied, "It suits me."

Chicago Grain Review

CHICAGO, Jan. 29.—Profit takings today caused noticeable recessions after firm grain market had opened generally higher than yesterday's close. Firm cables caused wheat to show an overnight gain of ⅝c at opening, prices being 150½ and 134½ respectively for May and July. Recessions began within the first fifteen minutes and continued, a fraction at a time, until the prices touched 149¾ and 133⅝ at one time. Later there were slight advances.

Corn acted with wheat, prices at opening being unchanged and up a fraction over yesterday's close. Later there were recessions of from ⅜ to ⅛ over opening.

Oats were up ⅜c over yesterday's close at the opening. The market showed some nervousness in this ceaeal, prices later being unchanged to ½c down.

Provisions opened higher than yesterday's closing prices and later receded slightly from opening.

The wheat recession in the afternoon was due to extensive profit taking and peace rumors. No one seemed to know where the rumors originated, but they affected the market. The same influence sent corn and oats down.

Provisions nominally would have been higher owing to small hog run, but were forced down by heavy selling for packing interests.

May Be New Ceylon Industry.

The production in Ceylon, on a sufficiently large scale, of acetic acid, if it be successfully accomplished, will be a notable instance of a new industry being born as a result of war. The possibility of turning the "milk" in the cocoanut into acetic acid is now receiving the attention of the authorities in Colombo, and this probable additional source of supply will be welcomed.

COLLEGE HEAD O. K.'S "DAMN" FOR GIRLS

Pres. Charles F. Thwing.

Addressing a girl's Bible class at Western Reserve University in Cleveland the other day, President Charles F. Thwing of that institution is quoted as saying:

"I think it is perfectly permissible to swear at times. I think it's all right to say 'damn' even. If some man did something terrible to you and you said, 'Damn that man,' that's all right—that man should be damned."

SAY HE IS ABSCONDER

SAN ANGELO, Texas, Jan. 29.—Jailed here today is a middle-aged man who said he is A. McCowan, absconding cashier of the Montesano, Washington, National bank. He is being held for the Washington authorities. McCowan was arrested in Sweetwater yesterday charged with forgery.

Generally speaking a gambler's political forecasts are the most reliable.

NYE BILL FIRST SIGNED BY PHILIPP

Tax "Stand-off" Law Gets Governor's Signature After Passage Today

MADISON, Jan. 29.—(Spevial.)—Gov. Philipp yesterday signed his first bill, the Nye measure extending the time for paying taxes without penalty until March 1. To be effective, the terms of the bill must be approved by the municipal councils or town boards.

The legislative committee which is to investigate the state commissions and boards is made up of Senators E. T. Fairchild and Platt Whitman and Assemblymen B. L. Van Gordon, George Harrington and John B. Heim.

These were named in each house of the legislature at the session this morning.

The senate laid over the confirmation of Walter Alexander as railroad commissioner until next Tuesday.

The senate passed the customary joint resolution to adjourn until Tuesday, but this had hard sledding in the assembly. After considerable argument the house defeated it 58 to 25 and then adjourned until Friday morning. The senate then did the same.

There were a number of bills introduced in each house. In the senate the following special committees were named by the committee on committees:

Conservation — Senators Ackley, Hanson, Kellogg, Stevens, Tokins.

Highways — Senators Bennett, Bichler, Cunningham, Everett, Staudenmeyer.

The assembly session's start was enlivened by a debate on the resolution by Assemblyman Hanson, which acts congress to do all possible to maintain neutrality. It finally passed, 45 to 36.

Assemblyman Pieper introduced a joint resolution providing for an investigation of unemployment.

Assemblyman Donnelly wanted to get his resolution providing for the suppression of the state vice commission's report back from the committee on state affairs and bring it up for passage, but the assembly refused.

A Remedy For All Pain

"The efficiency of any drug" says Dr. C. P. Robbins, "is known to us by the results we obtain from its use. If we are able to control pain and disease by means of any preparation, we certainly are warranted in its use. One of the principal symptoms of all diseases is pain, and this is what the patient most often applies to us for, i. e. something to relieve his pain. If we can arrest this promptly, the patient is most liable to trust in us for the other remedies which will effect a permanent cure. One remedy which I have used largely in my practice is Anti-kamnia Tablets. Many and varied are their uses. I have put them to the test on many occasions, and have never been disappointed. I found them especially valuable for headaches of malarial origin, where quinine was being taken. They appear to prevent the bad after-effects of the quinine. Anti-kamnia Tablets are also excellent for the headaches from improper digestion; also for headaches of a neuralgic origin, and especially for women subject to pains at certain times. Two Anti-kamnia Tablets give prompt relief, and in a short time the patient is able to go about as usual." These tablets may be obtained at all druggists. Ask for A-K Tablets. They are also unexcelled for headaches, neuralgia and all pains.

DENY SCHMIDT TRIAL

Modern Improvements.

"You see, grandma, we perforate an aperture in the apex, and a corresponding aperture in the base; and, by applying the egg to the lips and forcibly inhaling the breath, the egg is entirely discharged of its contents." "Bless my soul," cried the old lady, "what improvements they do make! Now, in my young days, we just made a hole in both ends and sucked."

HEAD STUFFED FROM CATARRH OR A COLD

Says Cream Applied in Nostrils Opens Air Passages Right Up.

Instant relief—no waiting. Your clogged nostrils open right up; the air passages of your head clear and you can breathe freely. No more hawking, snuffling, blowing, headache, dryness. No struggling for breath at night; your cold or catarrh disappears.

Get a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm from your druggist now. Apply a little of this fragrant, antiseptic, healing cream in your nostrils. It penetrates through every air passage of the head, soothes the inflamed or swollen mucous membrane and relief comes instantly.

It's just fine. Don't stay stuffed-up with a cold or nasty catarrh.

FINE FRUIT FROM NEW ORANGE CROP

Citrus Fruit to Be Plentiful This Year at Prices Even Lower Than Apples

With an anticipated output of 43,000 cars of oranges and 6,000 cars of lemons from the state of California, citrus fruits promise to be conspicuous during the present season and available at prices even lower than apples. The new naval crop now coming on the market is the finest fruit ever seen at this time of the year. The lemon harvest will double that of last season and in a few years Californians expect to produce a crop of sufficient size to eliminate the necessity of foreign importation.

Since 1896, when the California Fruit Growers' exchange was organized, the citrus industry has been developed from a hazardous undertaking to a profitable enterprise. During the past decade, while the population of the United States increased 21 per cent, the consumption of California oranges increased 74.6 per cent. The aim of the exchange shippers is to make the name Sunkist a guarantee to the purchaser of the quality of the fruit. In other words, by careful grading and selection they aim to maintain such a high standard that the name Sunkist on citrus fruits will convey the assurance of the term Sterling on silver.

The California Fruit Growers' exchange, which packs the Sunkist brand, is made up of 7,000 growers who are voluntarily affiliated and aim to market their fruit at the lowest possible expense. This gigantic federation has succeeded in reducing the market cost to 1 3-5 per cent on the gross sales, which is the lowest of that one any agricultural crop in the world. It accumulates no profits and declares no dividends.

The influence of packing a dependable quality of fruit is clearly reflected in the increased demand for citrus fruits. Last year the Sunkist people shipped 61.9 per cent of the crop of oranges or 10,156,724 boxes. In addition they handled about 75 per cent of the lemon output or 1,105,461 boxes, making a total of 28,195 carloads.

Scientific cultivation, efficient marketing, the elimination of unnecessary rehandling and the ability in tremendous quantities are the main factors which have made it possible for the Sunkist people to place their fruit in practically every store in the country at prices which render them available to rich and poor alike.

"CINDERELLA GIRL" ROCKS MAJESTIC

Hilarious Musical Show Is Voted by Big House to Be Best Tabloid Offering of the Season

"My Cinderella Girl" opened last night at the Majestic theater before a crowded house whose hilarious laughter attested that the show is by long odds the best tabloid musical comedy that has appeared at the Majestic this season. It is a tuneful musical comedy with an ingeniously intricate plot, woven about the adventures of a college youth, captain of the Siwash baseballteam, who by the exercise of a propensity for pranks and brass-band audacity gets himself in and out of enough tight places to last an ordinary person a lifetime.

It is a screamingly funny show, but there is an entire absence of vulgarity and slapstick comedy. It is clean and wholesome, and extremely diverting in its portrayal of American college life.

J. W. Williamson, formerly manager of a department of the Park Store, returns to his first love, the stage, with huge success. As "Rube" Adell, catcher of the Siwash nine, he displays big ability as a comedian; and in a whistling and banjo specialty between the acts he won enthusiastic applause.

The show is produced by Boyle Woolfolk, whose last offering "The Sunny side of Broadway," was so well liked here. It is staged in excellent style; and the cast is capable.

Guy Voyer, as Tom Harrington, the likeable young scapegrace hero, was entirely satisfying. He is a comedian of parts, and his deft handling of the "business" of the role gave the final mirth-compelling touch to the ludicrous situations and dialogue of the piece. Dorothy Ellis, Harriet Lee, Minnie Pillard, Gertrude Earle, Hans Herbert, Bobby Stewart, and Elton Robinson are members of the cast whose work was especially noteworthy.

VIROQUA TOBACCO RAISERS TO POOL THEIR 1914 CROP

VIROQUA, Wis., Jan. 29.—(Special.)—A meeting of all tobacco raisers in the vicinity of Viroqua will be held Monday, with a view to pooling the present tobacco crop.

Following a plan which was executed a few years ago, the farmers get together on a proposition to lease a warehouse. This will be done for the reason that foreign tobacco buyers are backward in purchasing.

The scheme was one of the results of the meeting of the American Society of Equity, held at Viroqua Saturday.

Had Tuberculosis of Glands—Now Well

Glandular Tuberculosis has yielded to Eckman's Alterative when other remedies failed. Read what it did in this case:

257 Lauriston St., Philadelphia, Pa.

"Gentlemen:—In March, 1909, my doctor pronounced my case 'Tuberculosis in the Glands,' and a number of operations in a hospital failed to benefit me. In the meantime a friend of mine advised Eckman's Alterative. The wounds in my neck were still open and in a frightful condition when I started to take it. After using two bottles I found I was improving, having gained weight, could eat and was able to sleep. I continued using it until I was well. On November 11, 1910, I started to work, and since that time have not lost one day's work through sickness. I highly recommend Eckman's Alterative to any one who is suffering from Tuberculosis." (Abbreviated.)
